

Shaped Chip-Type Snack

Abstract

A shaped chip-type snack comprising excluded portions that form holes, notches, and sides. Chips can include combinations of hole, notches, and sides. Holes are preferably the size of an average human adult finger, an average child finger, or larger than a finger. The holes, notches, and sides can be any desired shape, including geometric and non-geometric shapes. Any type of chip can be used. Chips are preferably made from any edible material.